

LOW GWP REFRIGERANTS

Are you regulation ready?

With requirements to begin using lower Global Warming Potential refrigerants being implemented as early as January 2023, the future of HVACR is full of challenges.

How prepared are contractors and wholesalers?

Have a basic understanding of the standard requirements

58%

Say it will affect their company's daily operations

73%

Are concerned about creating new inventory plans

65%

Have not taken action yet to prepare

66%

The majority say challenges to prepare include:

-  Addressing concerns about changes to their business
-  Conducting technician or service training
-  Identifying training materials and resources about the changes

We're here to help you prepare for tomorrow's challenges today.

Visit our air conditioning regulations website

Subscribe to our emails

Learn more about our next-generation Copeland™ compressors

Register for a training course

COPELAND™

EMERSON™

climate.emerson.com